What is circusnext?

For over 20 years, circusnext has been making way in circus for emerging authors with original, unusual, or unseen writings of all kinds.

Currently, circusnext undertakes its work in the frame of "circusnext Platform", a European program of identification and support for emerging circus authors with unique writings.

Every year, circusnext launches an open call to select emerging artists who develop a singular approach to circus as authors and wish to develop their creation at a European level.

Coordinated by circusnext (Paris, France), the platform gathers 24 cultural operators (festivals, creation and diffusion venues), based in 14 European countries, who support these promising artists by hosting them for creation residencies and showcasing of their works-in-progress and shows.

Eventually, circusnext Platform aims at promoting the diversity of circus writings in Europe and at creating sustainable relationships between cultural professionals, audiences and artists, so the latter can share their views on the world today with as many as possible.

1/ WHAT CIRCUSNEXT SEARCHES FOR circusnext aims at identifying emerging artists who develop a singular approach to circus as authors.

Author is understood as authorship, an artist having authority over their work and a process of "finding one's artistic signature' and (re)defining one's artistic position as an author of original circus of the editorial of the circusnext's artistic jury).

Emergence is understood as a level of professional recognition and should not be confused with youth: there is no age limit for applicants.

All types of circus creations are admissible except acts:

all creative contexts, all types of forms, formats, duration, aesthetics, subject, target audience, all disciplines and all interdisciplinary endeavours between circus and other art forms.

While examining the projects, the juries are attentive to the following criteria:

- Originality of the project: may it be a new approach of circus techniques, an original research process, the construction of an unseen artistic universe, etc.
- Coherence and relevance project: how the project is structured, how the elements that compose it are arranged, etc.
- Quality of the performance: movement quality, rhythm, stage presence, i.e. the ability to make the intentions of the proposition tangible on stage, etc.
- Position as an author: being able to defend one's work and artistic choices, ability to position oneself and one's work in the field of circus art, etc.

N.B: Please note that the definitions of the criteria are not limited to the explanations above which are here only intended for a better understanding.

* Average: 35-40 pre-selected projects among 130 applications per edition.

The 4 Laureates will also present their work in progress in front of general audience the 16 & 17 May 2024 during the "circusnext Revelations" event.

Focus on the Selection of Laureates:

During the Selection of Laureates, the 12 Finalists will:

- present work in progress of their creation in front of professionals of circusnext choice
- pitch their project in front of professionals
- be interviewed by the artistic jury (1 hour)

N.B: note that technical conditions are limited, two stages will be shared. Accommodation, transport, and meals will be covered.

3/ WHY APPLY?

At each step of the selection, your project benefits from visibility towards professionals in the circus field throughout Europe and gets supports. Note that each support is financially covered by circusnext (Lab, residencies, work in progress, Selection of Laureates).

a) For pre-selected projects - 1st step

- A 10-day Lab* at a Platform member venue abroad (outside the country of application)

b) For Finalists - 2nd step

- €3000 co-production grant
- European residency opportunities at circusnext Platform members' venues with work in progress presentations in front of European audiences
- Encounters with European professionals
- A 15 to 20-min presentation of your artistic material in front of professionals in Paris at Théâtre de la Cité Internationale (6 to 11 May 2024)

c) For Laureates - 3rd step

- A 15 to 20-min presentation of your artistic material in front of general audience in Paris at Théâtre de la Cité internationale (16 & 17 May 2024)
- One more year of support for: residencies, touring & networking opportunities among the circusnext Platform members venues (until May 2025).

d) Focus on the European Labs

Each Lab gathers 8 to 9 pre-selected authors from different countries for 10 days and is facilitated by an experienced artist. The main goal of a Lab is to work collectively on each other's projects with a focus on circus writings and dramaturgy. It is not mandatory to participate.

The dates and venues of the Labs are the following:

Cirkorama (Croatia) : 25 August > 3 September 2023

Sarabanda (Italy) : 4 > 13 September 2023

Subtopia (Sweden) : 18 > 27 September 2023

La Grainerie (France) : 2 > 13 October 2023

b) Who is considered emergent circusnext and its partners evaluate emergence regarding to each national context. It is a question of professional recognition, not a question of age. Evaluation of emergence is based on the following:

1/Number of previous professional creations as an author

You can apply with:

- your 1st or 2nd creation as author in France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Republic of Ireland
- your 3rd creation in all other eligible European countries

N.B: self-produced creations do not count.

2/Visibility: have your previous creations (as author/s) toured significantly at European/international level?

3/Financial support: have your previous creations (as author/s) received important creation subsidy from a public body?

▲ Emergence criteria apply to all artists considered as authors of the creation project, but it does not apply to performers. Collectives including an author who is non-emerging, are ineligible. A non-emerging outside eye who holds in fact the position of co-creator makes the project ineligible.

c) What projects?

- all circus creations in progress except acts, from any circus discipline(s) are admissible
- no premiere planned of the creation before the circusnext Revelations event in Paris (16 & 17 May 2024)
